

SCOUTS MEET FOR LAST TIME BEFORE CAMP

"Camp Sherzer" is to be its name—the name of the first Boy Scout camp in these parts and the place where the chief of all scouts, Ernest Thompson Seton, is to be entertained for one long captivating week. Nine o'clock Saturday morning is the hour when all brave Scouts will meet at the D. J. & C. waiting room and start for Camp Sherzer. The prospects are that the Scouts will be sixty strong when they meet tomorrow morning to set out for this wonderful camping week.

The membership is over 100 in Ypsilanti, and of these over 50 were at the conference last night at the Normal and a number of others sent word they were going. The principal matters decided last evening were that the name of the camp should be "Camp Sherzer," that Lamar Kishlar should be the official reporter, and that George Willard should be steward. The original plan that each boy should come provided with a week's supplies is to be somewhat modified, so that there shall not be an excessive supply of some articles and a corresponding deficiency in others.

The boys will meet at 9 o'clock Saturday morning, gather up the 20 tents which the G. A. R. committee held up for this occasion, and then, with the heavier part of the luggage carried on drays, scouts will go out to Newton's Grove and immediately begin the erection of a "tent city."

SCOUTS AFTER HIGHER RANKS BEFORE CAMP

Some of the Boy Scouts this week are working off requirements of the next higher order before going into camp next week. Among these, Seward Horner and Lamar Kishlar started out after lunch today to work off the fifteen-mile bicycle ride. Each went separately to Wayne, and it being a condition that the ride must be taken alone, and there they planned to meet and eat a lunch together, all the supplies being taken along in their knapsacks.

"THE ARK," YPSI'S OLD LANDMARK IS BEING TORN DOWN

The east portion of the Ark building has been torn away, although the official summons for this to be done had not been yet received. The fire in the north and the consequent call for the presence of the fire marshal there have doubtless delayed the receipt of the report as to which structures in Ypsilanti have been condemned.

AFRO-AMERICAN WOMAN WILL HOLD LAST SESSION IN YPSILANTI

The last session of the seventh biennial convention of the Michigan State association of Afro-American women, which has been in progress in Ann Arbor this week, will be held in the Ypsilanti A. M. E. church this evening. A specially chartered car leaving Ann Arbor at 5:30 this evening will bring the delegates to this city. A supper will be served here. Then a program will be put on which promises to be very creditable. The Ypsilanti names on the program are Goldie Thompson, who will read, Ruth Cayn, who plays, and Bernice Kersey, who will read a paper. All are cordially welcome. There will be speakers from Minnesota, Washington, and West Virginia.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that fires in streets and alleys of the business and residence district of the city of Ypsilanti are forbidden by the city ordinance and further that any person or persons found willfully kindling fires in such forbidden districts will be duly prosecuted.

SAVES BABIES FROM FIRE

Young Mother Near Holland Is Seriously Burned.

Holland, Mich., July 21.—Mrs. Vera Sanders of Fellows Station, proved herself a heroine by saving herself and two children from burning to death in a fire which completely destroyed her home. Rushing through the flames she snatched the little ones from an adjoining room and dragged them to safety.

The house was nearly half a mile from the nearest neighbor, and though seriously burned Mrs. Sanders succeeded in dragging herself within a short distance from the place when she collapsed. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Delightful Musical

Program Presented

CONSERVATORY FACULTY MEMBERS ENTERTAIN AT NORMAL HALL.

A delightful audience listened to the program which was presented Thursday evening in Normal Hall by members of the Conservatory faculty, Mrs. Annis D. Gray, contralto, Minor E. White, pianist, Miss Abba Owen, violinist, Miss Alice M. Lowden, pianist, and Professor Frederick Alexander, organist.

Prof. Alexander was heard twice in solo work, and as usual his thoroughly musically work was very warmly received, but he did not respond to the encores with which each appearance was greeted. He first played two movements from a Symphonie-Sonate of Guilman's, while his last group consisted of an adagio from Rheinberger and Mendelssohn's popularly loved Spring Song.

Mrs. Gray was admirable in all her numbers. Sidney Lanier's remarkable poem, "A Ballad of Trees and the Master," with the beautiful setting which Chadwick has given it, was sung by Mrs. Gray in her unfailingly sympathetic manner. Max Spicker's deeply devotional song, "In Thee, O God, do I put my trust," called for some of the loveliest tones in Mrs. Gray's voice. Mary Turner Salter's cycle, "Love's Epitome" and a group of three songs "The Night has a Thousand Eyes," "Gae to Sleep," and a boat song, were the others with which Mrs. Gray captivated anew her audience.

Mr. White has a strong hold on the students always and they testified their appreciation of his fine work last evening by applause which he once responded to with an encore. A prelude by Stojowski, one of Chopin's eminently lovely Nocturnes, and the brilliant, rapid Staccato Etude in G by Rubinstein were his numbers, all played with technical command and extremely interesting.

A trio for violin, piano and organ, played by Miss Owen, Miss Lowden and Prof. Alexander, was one of the enjoyed features of the evening.

F. P. Beall, of Niles, Michigan, author of Beall's Mental Arithmetic, gave a demonstration of his mental work at Cleary Business College also at the State Normal, Friday, showing some wonderfully new ways of solving difficult problems without writing them. His work was highly appreciated by the teachers and faculty, and no doubt will be used as a regular course of study in all the schools and colleges when the merits of his methods become more widely known.

For Saturday we have on sale our regular 75 cent large oval picture, Harrison Fischer and old masters, for 50 cents. Monday the sale is over. New Bazarette, next to Joe Miller's.

EBERLE CLAIMS HIS FLEET WINS

Second Big Sham Battle Is Fought at Night.

WEATHER CONDITIONS IDEAL

Engagement Starts with Theoretical Destruction of Scout Cruiser—Main Fighting Occurs Off Gay Head.

Newport, R. I., July 21.—Commander Edward W. Eberle, commanding officer of the defending fleet in the naval war game, returned here on his flagship Dixie with the torpedo boats and submarines. Commander Eberle came in with another claim of victory over the battleship fleet.

The conditions for the battle were much better than on the night previous. There was no moon until very late, the sea was moderately rough, with a fresh breeze from the south. Commander Eberle had charge of the defense, and in view of the fact that the flagship Connecticut was out of the game Rear Admiral Aaron Ward directed the attacking fleet from the battleship Missouri.

The hostilities opened shortly after 10 p. m., and the battle was not called off until 1 a. m. Commander Eberle had thrown out his defending line of ships along the coast and the first sign of attacking was when the destroyer Lamson, commanded by Lieutenant Commander John M. Luby, picked up one of the scout cruisers, and theoretically destroyed her about thirty-five miles to the south of Block Island.

The battle started in earnest off Gay Head, where the line of destroyers closed in on the battleships. The cruiser Dixie was about five miles in the lead of the "blue" fleet, and is supposed to have thrown overboard naval contact mines. At a signal the destroyers Preston, Burrows and Smith advanced, and are supposed to have torpedoed three of the advancing battleships. The submarines were in the same vicinity and the Narwhal, Lieutenant Chester W. Nimitz commanding, is said to have sent a torpedo into the vital parts of the battleship Michigan.

The Salmon was also close in, with Ensign Warden G. Child in command, and launched a torpedo into one of the big ships. It was now about 1 o'clock, and the battle was called off. The battleships threw on their searchlights, and took up an anchorage about ten miles to the west of Martha's Vineyard. Commander Eberle signalled his fleet and a start was made for Narragansett Bay a little later.

TWO BRIDGES GO DOWN

Trains Precipitated into Channels of Swollen Streams.

Serious Wreck Narrowly Averted in Colorado by Dispatcher Changing Plan.

Grand Junction, Colo., July 21.—A wreck in which scores of passengers might have been killed were averted when, contrary to custom, a freight train on the Denver and Rio Grande railroad preceded the transcontinental express a few minutes out of Dubuque and crashed through a bridge over which the express train was due to pass a few minutes later.

The freight had waited at Debeque for the express to pass, but the dispatcher finally allowed it to go ahead. The freight's engine had passed over the bridge when the structure gave way, allowing four cars and the tender to fall a distance of forty feet.

The engine and the rear end of the train remained on the tracks. No one was injured. The bridge had been weakened by the swelling of the stream due to a cloudburst.

FIVE PASSENGERS INJURED

Train in Oklahoma Falls Fifty Feet into Creek.

Muskogee, Okla., July 21.—Five passengers and the conductor were injured when a Midland Valley train crashed through a bridge half a mile west of Avant, Okla. The bridge is fifty feet high. The structure had been weakened by a swollen creek.

The engine passed completely over the bridge before pier gave way. The baggage car is hanging at the west end of the bridge and the "Jim Crow" car, which crashed through, lies at the bottom of the creek, nearly buried in the water. The two rear passenger coaches remained on the track.

For the benefit of many who failed to get into our store last Saturday we will have another big 50 cent sale tomorrow, July 22. May E. Crane.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., July 21.—The steamer Huron, bound for this port, ran on a shoal off Richards landing and suffered a hole in her bottom about twenty feet in length. The 200 passengers were taken off on the City of Chatham and brought to this city. The Huron is said to have struck in a fog. She is tied up at the landing, practically sunk, waiting orders from her owners. The accident occurred in Canadian waters.

BODY OF MISSING WOMAN FOUND BURIED IN LIME

Charlotte, Mich., July 20.—It was the love and anxiety of a son for his missing mother that resulted in the arrest of the woman's husband, W. E. Lonsberry, aged 63, on the charge of murder committed six years ago, and the finding of the body buried, unshrouded, in an old sheep shed on Lonsberry's farm, near Dimondale, yesterday.

When brought before Justice Nichols here, this morning, for hearing on a charge of murder, Lonsberry waived examination and was bound over to the September term of the circuit court.

Lonsberry, who at first denied having killed his wife, now makes a sweeping confession of the slaying, and says it was his aged mother, now 83 years of age, who was not only the cause of the killing, but the cause of his arrest and undoing.

Six years ago the wife disappeared, and Lonsberry declared he and she had quarreled, and she had deserted him and left for parts unknown. Lonsberry's aged mother, residing in the same house, told the same story for years.

All went well, until the son of the missing woman by her first marriage, came back from the west two months ago and refused to believe his mother was still living.

The sheriff, together with a former minister of the aged woman's, then went to the Lonsberry home about a week ago, while Lonsberry was absent, and questioned the mother about the case. She was in a mood to tell the sheriff everything, and besides said she wanted to make peace with her Lord by telling the truth.

She then said she had seen her son kill his wife by choking her, and that he had taken the body out of the house at night and buried it somewhere on the farm. Her story was rambling; but the sheriff immediately sought out Lonsberry and placed him in jail. Deputy Sheriff Storrs late yesterday afternoon found the body of the murdered woman under two feet of earth in the sheepshed.

MINE WORKERS MAKE DEMANDS

Sense of Convention Crystallizes into Four Requirements.

INCREASE OF WAGES IS FIRST

Then Follow Eight Hour Work Day, Payment by Weight of Coal Mined, and Recognition of Union Comes Last.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 21.—After three days' consideration, the resolutions committee of the anthracite mine workers' convention in session here announced the demands which they desire to be made upon the operators when the existing agreement expires next March.

These number four, the committee deciding to take no action upon a number of demands of minor importance, which had been submitted by various delegates. The demands are:

An increase of wages for all classes of mine workers, the percentage of increase to be decided by the tri-district convention, which will be held later.

An eight hour work-day instead of the nine hour day now worked. Payment for coal mined by weight instead of the present system of paying by the carload, as the cars vary in size and for the collieries.

A more definite form of recognition of the union, to include the collection of the union dues from the mine workers by the operators by the check off system.

It is expected that the tri-district convention, to be held in the fall, will endorse these demands and perhaps add some to them.

QUIGLEY MAY BE CARDINAL

Chicago Friends Hear that Appointment Is Expected Soon.

Chicago, July 21.—Chicago clergy and members of the Roman Catholic church were elated on the receipt of dispatches from Europe, stating that Archbishop James E. Quigley of Chicago was likely to be made a cardinal within a short time.

The dispatches stated that Pope Pius felt Chicago should have the honor because it is the center of Catholic strength in the west. In an audience with a Chicagoan recently, the pontiff remarked: "Chicago! That is a world within a world—the great heart of a bigger heart. Tell them that I send blessings to all their people."

MONROE PLANT DAMAGED

Under Board Company Suffers $9,000 Fire Loss.

Monroe, Mich., July 21.—Fire was discovered in the stock room of the Monroe blunder board plant which was only extinguished after a hard fight on the part of the fire department. The blaze originated in the stock room which contained more than 300 tons of baled paper stock, 100 tons of leather and a large amount of machinery ordered for the auxiliary plant of the company now being erected at Aurora, Ill.

The loss is placed between $9,000 and $10,000, well insured. New stock has already been ordered and repairs are being made and within forty-eight hours from the fire the entire plant will again be in operation. The origin of the blaze is unknown.

Missionary Women

Talk About Alaska

PLEASANT AND PROFITABLE SESSION AT HOME OF MRS.

MILTON WEBB.

There was a very large attendance Thursday at the meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary Union, which was held at the home of Mrs. Milton Webb and was under the charge of the Westminster Guild. Miss Mary Webster of the guild presided over the meeting accordingly, and Miss Lucile Ross conducted the program. Miss Treblecox played a piano solo. "Alaska" was the general topic of the meeting. The Sheldon Jackson school in Alaska and the Haines Hospital there were the two topics and of these, the latter was of especial interest as the local guild contributes towards its maintenance. Miss Ruth Dietz gave a short talk on "People without a country," meaning the people of Alaska. Short items on that country were given by the young women.

Mrs. Leigh Townsend sang a solo, Miss Gibbons talked informally on the Alaskan Presbytery, and Mrs. Creighton talked entertainingly on the trip she took to Alaska two years ago. Mrs. Townsend read a short poem.

At the conclusion of this program the Missionary Union transacted a little routine business. Then a picnic tea was served.

CITY SHOULD BE FAMILIAR WITH FACTS

(Communication)

To the Editor of The Evening Press:

Have you space for a few words concerning the municipal ownership of our gas plant? The Press is on what I conceive to be the right side of this important question, which it has already considered in various lights; much, however, remains to be said. Our Common Council has delighted every lover of our city by refusing to commit the town, three years before there was any necessity for such action, to a renewal of the present franchise, and has asked for a vote of instruction in the premises. The vote ought to be intelligent and decisive. Personally, I believe it to be a perfectly safe proposition for the city to duplicate if need be—there will be no need—the present plant and its apparatus of manufacture and distribution with the idea of paying for the same in a reasonable time out of the profit from the sale of gas at the present, or even a lower, rate than now. But every one ought to be fully persuaded in his own mind. I can imagine a year-by-year contract with the present company, with full publicity of cost and profit, and either profit-sharing or a reduction of the price of gas when the profit should rise above a certain rate, as is done abroad sometimes, which would satisfy me as a resident if not as a citizen. As a citizen I want our people to have the educative effect of knowing about and judging and determining a question which they can understand and which vitally concerns them; but I do not find that other people care much about this view of the case. The fear of graft and inefficiency in the municipal management of public utilities is a rational fear, but we can learn to manage by managing and in no other way.

But I write not to argue the question but only to urge that it is a simple question, that we can all understand it, and that in the interest of civic consciousness as well as of economy we would do well to set about getting the facts and looking them in the face.

LAUDANUM VICTIM WAS A STUDENT IN 1904

As the result of taking an overdose of laudanum, Miss Pearl Blakeslee died Wednesday at her home near Milford. She had been in poor health for some time and had been in the habit of taking laudanum at night to insure sleeping. It is believed she took an overdose upon retiring, for she was taken very sick shortly afterwards and although doctors worked over her for several hours they were unable to save her life. An exchange states that Miss Blakeslee had just finished a course at the Normal College in Ypsilanti and that her health had given way as a result of overwork at college. Inquiry at the Normal office reveals that no student by that name has ever graduated from the college and her name does not appear in the files of the past year. Her standings for a partly finished course are entered in 1904.

THE GAS QUESTION AGAIN.

We commend to our readers a perusal of the communication printed elsewhere today from Professor E. A. Strong of our State Normal College. Professor Strong has been, ever since his coming to this city a good many years ago, a citizen in the very best sense,—a citizen who proceeded to own his own home in our city and to make this his permanent home, a citizen who has always taken a lively interest in everything that has to do with the city's welfare and a citizen very far above most citizens in ability to comprehend the real significance of most municipal problems.

Professor Strong has had special opportunities—and he has made the best use of them—of knowing the gas question fully. He was employed, as we understand, by the city of Grand Rapids, to make an exhaustive examination of the question for that city, and his interest has continued down to the present time. The department over which he presides in our State Normal College makes this a natural subject of study for him. His natural care and disposition to err on the side of conservation, if at all, his ability to see all sides of a question, makes whatever he talks about or writes about a subject of interest, and, after he has talked about it or written about it, those who hear or read can understand it.

Professor Strong is now away on his vacation, but we hope upon his return that he will do the city the distinct service of lending his pen to an elucidation of this important question. To us it seems to be decidedly the most important question which has confronted the city in a quarter of a century. We believe in the municipal ownership of our gas plant, and believe thoroughly that it will contribute greatly to the welfare of the city of the present and the city of the future.

We think the question should now be taken up for study and solution. We invite our readers to contribute communications which will help illuminate an illuminating question.

WANTED—A late authoritative bulletin on the whereabouts and condition of the Ypsilanti Industrial Association.

In order that we may answer the enquiries which keep coming from solicitous citizens we would like a late and authoritative bulletin on the present whereabouts and condition of the Ypsilanti Industrial Association. Many fear it is dead. They have looked for crepe on the door, but not knowing the exact location of its domicile, they may not have looked in the right place. The local press has published no obituary notice and refuses to do so until the requisite certificate or authoritative statement is made. Some fear foul play. It is understood that when last seen it had on its person $10,000.00 in cash. So far as known no will has been left with the probate court. If anyone should see or hear of Y. I. A. they will relieve the anxiety of friends by promptly notifying this office.

We note with pleasure the demolition of the village blacksmith shop that once stood in the shade of the spreading walnut tree adjoining the Ark. It seems that its collapsed debris is to be hidden by a bill board. That influential national organization, the American Civic Association, has conducted and is conducting a vigorous campaign against that ugly perspective mariner—the "bill board nuisance." The remedy for the ugly in art municipally is the growth of the beautiful in art individually. The aroused individual civic spirit responds readily to the appeal for civic beauty by reflecting as much of beauty as possible from their respective premises. If this prominent corner could be but a grass plat with some inexpensive shrubbery growing about its borders and some woodbine or Boston ivy rambling over the buildings and fences marking its borders—it would become a thing of beauty and a joy forever—or until something better brings more joy. From the old blacksmith shop to the new bill board is perhaps a move for the better, but by no means for the best. It is a change in municipal nuisances within the purview of the late decisions.

GLORIOUS HAIR

To Possess It Every Woman Must Get Rid of Dandruff.

Dandruff is caused by germs; these germs dig into the roots of the hair and vociferously devour the nourishment that nature intends the hair to have.

Allow these destructive and persistent little devils to keep feasting and soop the hair of any person will lose its natural life and lustre, will fade, turn gray and fall out.

A fifty cent bottle of Parisian Sage (now sold all over America) will kill more dandruff germs than any other known agent.

It is guaranteed to banish dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp, or money back. Sold by Duane Spauls-bury and druggists everywhere.

A few years ago the bite of a mad dog was equivalent to a death certificate, but today, if the patient is given the Pasteur treatment in time, not one case in a dozen proves fatal.

Typhoid fever may be contracted by drinking water containing the germs, also by bathing in streams at a low stage of water which have been contaminated by sewage.

The enormous total of 76,334,675 barrels of cement was the output of mills in this country last year, being an increase of 10,000,000 barrels over the production of the year before.

Records are usually interesting; hence the performance of Jumbo, a frog in charge of the Lincoln park zoo in Chicago, is worth giving. Not long ago tab was kept on the frog, and it was found that in a period of one hour it devoured 266 flies.

In a baking test made lately in Hutchinson, Kan., it was found that one barrel of flour made of the best grade of Turkey hard wheat made 324 one pound loaves, while a barrel of average, good wheat made 302 loaves of similar weight.

It is questionable which sort of neglect is the more cruel, leaving a horse for hours without a blanket on the village street on a cold winter day or hitched to the same post without a fly net in July or August when the mercury is crowding the 100 mark.

Through the middle west, where on July 4 early potatoes were retelling for 75 cents a peck, it will be entirely proper to serve murrhines in cut glass dishes with the best silver in the house. Here's hoping that taters will get down to a queensware basis before snow flies, but at the present writing the prospect isn't particularly flattering.

Good horse sense and just a fair regard for sanitary considerations would seem to suggest to all retailers of fruits, as well as to the housewife who gathers fruit from her own garden, the wisdom of covering fruit when thus exposed with mosquito netting to keep off flies that may have come to it direct from barnyard, cesspool or dead animals in the neighborhood.

The proposition that thousands of those living in the drought belt from the nineteenth meridian west have been up against has been a soil so dry that field and garden seeds sowed in April have not yet germinated. In some of these sections there seems to be sufficient moisture beneath a six inch dust mulch, but unfortunately the seeds were put in above this level.

Some poultry specialists in the employ of the Connecticut experiment station have proved quite conclusively that germs of white diarrhea, which is a most destructive poultry disease, trace their origin to the mother hen, being transmitted by her to the eggs which she lays; hence at hatching

OTTUMWA WOMAN CURED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Ottumwa, Iowa.—"For years I was almost a constant sufferer from female trouble in all its dreadful forms; shooting pains all over my body, sick headache, spinal weakness, dizziness, depression, and everything that was horrid. I tried many doctors in different parts of the United States, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than all the doctors. I feel it my duty to tell you these facts. My heart is full of gratitude to you for my cure."—Mrs. HARRIET E. WAMPLER, 524 S. Ransom Street, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous medicine, made only from roots and herbs, has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, confidential, and always helpful.

time the little chick has the germs in its own system. This announcement does not offer much along the line of possible prevention, but is welcome because it is definite and gives a basis on which to make further progress.

Within the last year or two the alfalfa weevil has become a serious menace to the growers of this legume in Utah and some other mountain states. In making search for some means for keeping the pest in check the department of agriculture learned that in Italy there was a natural parasite of this particular weevil. Accordingly agents of the department were sent to Italy and a supply of the parasites shipped under cold storage to this country, and they are now being distributed in the sections infested with the weevil. Naturally, results will be watched with great interest.

As showing the great need that exists of keeping sources of milk supply and the conditions under which it is handled as nearly germ free as possible, may be cited an instance which has come to light recently in Englewood, a Chicago suburb, where thirty-four cases of typhoid fever have been traced to the milk of a dairymaid who supplied their wants along this line. Going further back the health authorities traced the typhoid germs to the dairymaid's daughter, whose duty it was to wash the milk cans, and who was found to be a typhoid carrier, as a result of an attack of the disease three years before.

Owing to the fact that the roots of alfalfa plants penetrate the soil to a great depth, it is more than likely that in time they would clog any system of drain tile that might be laid within six or eight feet of the surface. Better is it to sow alfalfa on only that land that is naturally well drained.

It is the comparatively small number of weeds that mature their crop of seed unmolested after the crops in which they grow are laid by that furnish the supply of weed seed for the following year. A little work from this on will rid the garden of the

Pleasure & Profit AT PORTAGE LAKE

There are few places, if any, where the advantages for an ideal summer outing excell those afforded at Portage Lake. And Portage not only affords conditions for an ideal outing but conditions are afforded for an exceedingly profitable investment as well. Not a week passes during the vacation months and for periods, not a day passes that someone does not make application to cottage owners at Portage for cottages that cannot be supplied.

One Cottage Earned $87 in a Season On An Investment of Less Than $500

Just as an example we mention here the fact that one cottage earned for one man during just one season, $87. A more profitable and staple investment than that is hard to find and more especially when you add to these facts the consideration that a cottage at Portage affords an ideal place to spend a day now and then as well as your vacation and the cost is extremely low.

Excellent Accommodations

Facilities at Portage are decidedly superior to the average resort. There is a store right on the grounds where groceries are easily obtainable, there is a dancing pavilion favorably located, and perfect beaches for bathing. Mail is delivered to your door once a day. Portage affords the best fishing of any lake in Southern Michigan. Portage beaches also afford safe bathing for children.

You Can Find No Better Place to Spend Your Vacation, To Live During the Summer, and no More Profitable Place to Build a Cottage than at Portage woods and greatly reduce the weed nuisance for another year.

The white grub, the larval stage of the familiar June bug, is a hard pest to contend with in a piece of ground which is devoted to a tilled crop. However, they can be very effectively cleaned out of a piece of ground which is being prepared for a crop by turning in a bunch of hogs that consider the grubs a juicy treat and will sometimes root the soil up to a depth of a couple of feet to get them.

The progressive sheep raisers of Australia have adopted a new method as a preliminary to shearing their sheep. Instead of clipping the wool, dirt, grease and all, as is the quite general practice, those who have plenty of water for the purpose scrub, wash and clean their sheep just before shearing. As a result they are saved paying freight on dirt and grease and also realize the highest prices for their fine, clean wool.

It is to be hoped that in the near future some broad minded and influential member of congress will secure favorable consideration for a bill which will protect migratory or interstate birds. That there is need of this is shown in the statement recently published that in the state of Georgia alone last year 75,000 of our northern meadow larks were slaughtered to satisfy the greed of a lot of pot hunters, who probably realized from 8 to 10 cents a dozen for the birds.

The director of the dairy department of the Kansas Agricultural college has recently published the following recipe for keeping flies off horses and cattle in hot weather: Dissolve two cakes of laundry soap in warm water and add one and one-half pounds of rosin and one-half pound of fish oil and boil until the rosin is thoroughly dissolved, then add enough water to make three gallons. Apply to animals with brush or spray pump at the rate of about half a pint of liquid to each animal three times a week until the coat is pretty well covered with rosin. The fly pest can be still further reduced in the stables by putting dark coverings over the windows and pieces of slit gunnysacking in the doorways through which the animals must pass in going to their places.

Notwithstanding the fact that the average value of all tea imported into the United States in the year 1910 was but 16 cents per pound, this same product was tripled and quadrupled in price by the time it was stowed away in the consumer's tea can, costing from 50 to 75 cents. There is about the same record of extortion on coffee, the average import price of which, including an ocean freight rate, was 8 cents a pound, for which the consumer was taxed from 25 to 40 cents. It does not take an expert analyst to make clear from the above figures that not only is the producer of these two commodities not getting what he ought for them, but that the consumer is required to pay from 40 to 60 per cent more than conditions would seem to indicate that they are fairly worth.
